GREGORY GORHAM

A native of Northern Michigan, Gregory showed artistic talent at the early age of three and has been involved in drawing, painting, watercolors and sculpture ever since.

He received a Bachelor of Arts in Industrial Design/Graphic Arts with honors from the University of Michigan. He became an illustrator and designer for the Ford Motor Company before leaving to freelance creative designs for greeting cards, prints and other manufactured products.

Gregory's current artwork is reflective of a delight in culinary pleasures, be it an indulgent dessert or wholesome fresh baked bread. He currently makes his home in the Pacific Northwest.
