Andrea Laliberté is a young Montreal artist who has a degree in fashion design and a passion for beauty. During her studies, Andrea was fascinated by form and texture which led her to develop a style of elegance, strength and femininity mixing contrast and color. She is interested in the modern woman; independent, strong and confident.

She loves to travel and finds inspiration in the art and esthetics of different cultures from every country she encounters. Andrea is glad to bring to you, with her paintings, the world as seen through her eyes.
