

For everything there is a season, and a time for every matter under heaven:
 A time to be born, and a time to die;
 A time to kill, and a time to heal;
 A time to break down, and a time to build up;
 A time to weep, and a time to laugh;
 A time to mourn, and a time to dance;
 A time to seek, and a time to lose;
 A time to keep, and a time to throw away;
 A time to keep silence, and a time to speak;
 A time to love, and a time to hate;
 A time for war, and a time for peace.

...ace, in the sense of the absence of
 ...r, is of little value to someone who
 ...dying of hunger or cold. It will not
 ...move the pain of torture inflicted
 ...a prisoner of conscience. It does
 ...t comfort those who have lost their
 ...ved ones in floods caused by senseless
 ...orestation in a neighboring country.
 ...ace can only last where human rights are
 ...pected, where the people are fed, and
 ...where individuals and nations are free.

Unconditional war can no longer lead to unconditional victory. It can no longer serve to settle disputes. It can no longer be of concern to great powers alone. For a nuclear disaster, spread by winds and waters and fear, could well engulf the great and the small, the rich and the poor, the committed and the uncommitted alike. Mankind must put an end to war or war will put an end to mankind.

...all the peace, wisdom, and joy in the universe are already within us; we don't have to gain, develop, or attain them. We're like a child standing in a beautiful park with his eyes shut tight. We can't need to imagine trees, flowers, deer, birds, and sky; we merely need to open our eyes and realize what is already here, who we really are... as soon as we quit pretending we're small or unholy.
